

My Name is Madelynn Cummings

... better known as Mrs. C. I am driven to share the gift of reading with each of God's children. Being a reading aide in the classrooms and the library by fostering a love of reading and books is so very rewarding. In the words of Thomas Jefferson, "I cannot live without books." I feel exactly the same way, only adding that I cannot live without children.

I am joined in life by my husband who also shares my passion in service to God through quality Christian education. Together, we have two grown sons. Outside of school I enjoy gardening, collecting bears and the ever-exciting search for great new books. Most of all, I try to spend as much of my free time as possible with my family.

About the Library

Each year I pick an over-arching theme to guide our educational journey. If you were to look through my library windows you might see: a child sitting in the lap of a giant bear lost in a book, friends enjoying a story together in the library canoe, students camped out in the tent with their books and lanterns or students experiencing nature through the lens of a magnifying glass. I'd love to have you stop in and see what we're all about!

Why I Choose to Work in Christian Education

Every day at school I am filled with joy by the students. I am eternally grateful for the opportunity to watch them grow—filled with curiosity, learning and a love for reading and knowledge. In time spent with me, it is my hope that students will find new worlds to explore in an environment driven by God's love and grace. Witnessing a child's "ah-ha" moment is one of the greatest privileges of my career.
